BIOTECH Potential of Central Europe- BioForum 2010

One of the main goals of BioForum 2010 is to focus attention of participants on potential and perspectives for development of BioTech sector in Central Europe. The potential of life sciences in academics and business will be presented during one of the conferences by business representatives of 10 Central European countries.

Rapidly developing BIOTECH markets from Hungary, Czech Republic and Latvia will be represented by Antal Ördögh (CEO Hungarian Biotechnology Association), Marcela Simsova (CzechBio - Association of Czech Biotech Companies), Juris Vanags (Association of Biotechnology of Latvia, Biotechnical Centre Ltd.). Presentations will cover not only condition of biotechnology and life science sector (presentation of scientific background, science-business relations, R&D potential and commercialization), but also will present profile of key BioTech companies from those countries.

Information on Central European BioTech sector presented during BioForum 2010 will be extremely useful especially for Business Angels, Venture Capitals, Seed Capitals or Investment Funds. It's also good place to establish new business cooperation with pharmaceutical companies, R&D leaders, science representatives, various BioTech and start-up companies.

BioForum provides a unique platform for creating new business connections and thus supporting the development of rapidly expanding bioeconomies of Central European countries. BioForum is the place, where scientific knowledge, skills and creativity meets business experience to generate new biotech enterprises.

BioForum Central European Business Forum of Biotechnology & Innovative BioEconomy together with satellite events takes place on 19-21 May 2010 in Lodz, Poland.
